LSV Conservative Value Equity Fund, Institutional Class Shares	$41	0.35%

How did the Fund perform in the last year?

The broad U.S. equity market as measured by the S&P 500 Index was up 38.02% for the twelve months ended October 31, 2024. The market's strong performance came despite various challenges, including concerns about inflation, geopolitical tensions, and uncertainties surrounding the US presidential election. The resilience of the US economy and corporate earnings growth were key factors supporting the positive returns. While the market rewarded the mega-cap growth stocks in the period, smaller stocks and value-oriented stocks once again lagged behind. Small cap stocks underperformed large caps over the period as the Russell 1000 Index (USD) was up 38.07% while the Russell 2000 Index (USD) was up 34.07%. From a style perspective, value stocks (as measured by the Russell Indices) underperformed growth—the Russell 1000 Value Index (USD) was up 30.98% while the Russell 1000 Growth Index (USD) was up 43.77%. The LSV Conservative Value Equity Fund Institutional Class shares, was up 32.93% for the period. From a sector perspective, Financial, Industrial, Utility and Real Estate stocks outperformed while the Energy, Health Care and Consumer Staple sectors lagged.

The Fund's deeper value bias added value over the period as cheaper stocks on an earnings and cash flow basis performed well on a relative and absolute basis. Performance attribution further indicates that stock selection contributed positively to portfolio relative returns while sector allocation detracted slightly from relative returns over the year. Stock selection relative gains were primarily the result of the outperformance of deep value names within Financials, Utilities, and Consumer Discretionary. Within Financials, holdings in Regional Banks and Diversified Banks added to returns. Within Utilities, holdings in Independent Power Producers & Energy Traders added to returns. Within Consumer Discretionary, holdings in Homebuilding and Automobile Manufacturers furthered returns. From a sector perspective, relative losses were more modest and largely the result of our overweight to Energy and Health Care stocks combined with an underweight to the Industrials sector. Top contributors included our overweight positions in Vistra Corp, Sprouts Farmers Market, Allison Transmission, General Motors, Dell Technologies, Bank of New York Mellon, Goldman Sachs, Meta, Pulte Group, and NRG Energy. The main individual detractors included our underweight position in General Electric, Philip Morris, Texas Instruments, GE Vernova, and Oracle. Overweight positions in Merck, APA Corp, Archer-Daniels-Midland Co, CVS Health, and Cigna Group also detracted.

The Fund continues to trade at a significant discount to the overall market as well as to the value benchmark. The Fund is trading at 12.8x forward earnings compared to 18.0x for the Russell 1000 Value Index (USD), 2.1x book value compared to 2.7x for the Russell 1000 Value Index (USD) and 8.6x cash flow compared to 13.3x for the Russell 1000 Value Index (USD). Sector weightings are a result of our bottom-up stock selection process, subject to constraints at the sector and industry levels. The Fund is currently overweight the Communication Services, Financials, and Consumer Discretionary while underweight Real Estate, Industrials, and Utilities.

Householding

Rule 30e-1 of the Investment Company Act of 1940 permits funds to transmit only one copy of a proxy statement, annual report or semi-annual report to shareholders (who need not be related) with the same residential, commercial or electronic address, provided that the shareholders have consented in writing and the reports are addressed either to each shareholder individually or to the shareholders as a group. This process is known as “householding” and is designed to reduce the duplicate copies of materials that shareholders receive and to lower printing and mailing costs for funds. Once implemented, if you would like to discontinue householding for your accounts, please call toll-free at 888-386-3578 to request individual copies of these documents. Once the Fund receives notice to stop householding, we will begin sending individual copies 30 days after receiving your request.
